We are pleased to announce that an official partnership between VISORANDO and IVV-Europe has been sealed by the signing of a contract!

This collaboration marks an important milestone for the further development of digital support for hiking events in Europe. VISORANDO's expertise in GPS technology will enable us to make our hiking activities even more precise, secure and user-friendly.

With this partnership, we want to provide our members and organizers with a modern and reliable tool to further improve the quality of the events and create an even more intense hiking experience. We are very enthusiastic about the upcoming joint projects and the advantages that this cooperation will bring!

Visorando

Visorando is a free walking route planner and app. Founded over a decade ago by a mountain guide and an IT engineer, Visorando is located at the base of the Vosges mountains in Alsace. As the most popular walking app in France, it's created by walking enthusiasts for walking enthusiasts. The primary aim of Visorando is to make walking convenient and accessible for everyone without compromising on quality content.

Find walks

Visorando offers over 32,000 walk suggestions, primarily in France, Great Britain, and German-speaking countries, with options for walks in other parts of the world as well. Each walk comes with a track on the map and a detailed description. You can easily navigate these walks using the Visorando app or by printing out the description and map as a PDF file.

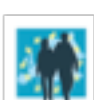

Visorando is a collaborative platform that allows any walking enthusiast, whether an individual or an organization, to publish their own walks. To ensure high-quality content, each walk is thoroughly reviewed by a dedicated team of volunteer walking enthusiasts before being published on the website and app. Community involvement is also encouraged, allowing users to share their experiences and rate the walks. This contributes to the continuous improvement and updating of the database.

Create your own walks

With the free walk planner, you can quickly and easily plot a track on the map of your choice. The tool provides automatic calculations for walk length, duration, and difficulty based on the elevation chart. Once created, your track can be printed, exported as GPX, shared, or accessed through the mobile app.

Share walks

Visorando is a collaborative tool built by walkers, for walkers. By sharing your walks, you'll help others discover new places, fostering a cycle of shared experiences and exploration.

Visorando: Your perfect walking app – functions, installation and ease of use

The Visorando app offers you numerous advantages. You can follow the exact course of your route at any time and avoid deviations. The option to download the route in advance ensures that you can use the maps even without mobile reception. The app constantly shows you your current position, which is particularly helpful in unknown terrain or when the weather changes. In an emergency, you can easily share your location to get help quickly.

Thanks to the user-friendly interface, you can create, customize and save routes without any technical knowledge. You can design your tours according to your personal preferences and benefit from the experiences of other users. The precise navigation saves you time and helps to protect nature by keeping to marked paths. As a partner of IVV Europa, Visorando offers you special features, such as a 20% discount on subscriptions for IVV participants and the option to use GPX data for the routes. The app is regularly updated, many features are free, and there are optional premium features.

Modern smartphones, whether Android or iPhone, offer enough power to run the Visorando app smoothly. You can easily install it in the Google Play Store or Apple App Store – even on older devices. After registering with your email address or your Google or Apple account, you can get started right away. Make sure to enable the GPS function and disable battery saver mode so that your position is accurately detected. You can also download routes in advance and use them offline, which is especially useful in areas without cell reception. The app uses minimal mobile data and works in flight mode, which saves battery power.

Visorando offers you technical support and easy-to-understand tutorials. You can contact Visorando with questions via email using the support page <https://www.visorando.com>; there is also a lot of information in the help center : <https://www.visorando.com/en/article-user-guide-how-to-use-the-app-visorando.html> ,. This is how you get help using the app optimally and quickly get your questions answered.
